Summer Infant's Thermometers Make Baby All Better

Quick, Accurate, Age Appropriate and Easy to Use Thermometers for Better Results

North Smithfield, RI (May 8, 2006) – Summer Infant realizes that caring for a potentially ill newborn cements the bonding experience. It can also be a concerning time however, especially if parents don't have the right tools and information to effectively tend to a child born without any instructions. Life can be a lot easier if parents are provided with the correct thermometers for their child's age and needs. Making the use of these items a whole lot easier, is also a priority at Summer™. By keeping each product quick, accurate, simple to understand, and durable, Summer helps to bring about positive results. Their aim is to ease any concerns with precise results.

Many of Summer's thermometers feature Fever Alert™; a quick, accurate, and highly visible tool for reading temperatures. Why add to the worry associated with a sick child when a parent simply needs an exact reading to determine what to do next. With Fever Alert, when a temperature reading is complete, the digital readout will glow red if the temperature registers at 99.9 degrees Fahrenheit or higher – indicating a fever. Or it will glow green for no fever. This makes it easier to get a quick visual reading, especially when taking a child's temperature at night. Six thermometers in this year's line feature this great technology. The rest of the line features thermometers unique in their own right as well.

Three-in-One Family Thermometer (03180) – Featuring Fever Alert™ technology. An oral, rectal, and underarm thermometer corded to one unit just like the doctor uses! Uses smart technology in that the thermometer detects and registers which probe is in use considering rectal usually registers a degree higher than oral, and underarm registers a degree lower. Fast 5 second readings on all and 12-memory recall makes it great for the whole family. The Three-in-One is a great thermometer for use on newborns to adults.

- Available now for a suggested retail price of $29.99

Grow-with-Me Ear Thermometer (03110) – Featuring Fever Alert™ technology. This is another great thermometer that will work on a newborn, as well as an adult. Normal ear thermometers have probes that are far too large to get an accurate reading on a newborn. The Grow-with-Me Thermometer includes a special newborn sized probe to make it a perfect fit right from the start. Second larger probe also included as the child grows and for adults. Fast 1 second reading and 12-memory recall again makes it great for the whole family.

- Available now for a suggested retail price of $24.99

Pacifier Thermometer (03160) – Featuring Fever Alert™ technology. The perfect solution for babies accustomed to a pacifier. The Pacifier Thermometer is a comforting and non-invasive way to take baby's temperature. It also includes a protective storage cap for the silicone orthodontic nipple.

- Available now for a suggested retail price of $7.99

6 Second Oral Thermometer (03150) – Featuring Fever Alert™ technology. This thermometer can be used orally or underarm. Fast 6 second reading and soft flexible tip make taking a child's temperature a quick and comfortable experience. Convenient storage case included.

- Available now for a suggested retail price of $7.99

5 Second Rectal Thermometer (03140) – Featuring Fever Alert™ technology. Taking a temperature rectally is the most accurate and effective way for an infant. This thermometer makes the experience much easier with a super fast 5 second reading, soft tip, and over insertion guard built into its unique design. Convenient storage case included.

- Available now for a suggested retail price of $7.99

NEW! Forehead, Oral & Rectal Thermometer Set (03230) – This perfect all-in-one set includes everything mom needs to accurately take baby’s temperature. Reusable Forehead Thermometer Strip gives a quick, non-invasive indication of whether or not a fever is present. Mom can then confirm a fever to the degree with either the 5 Second Rectal Thermometer or the 6 Second Oral Thermometer – both of which feature Fever Alert™ technology. Convenient storage case included for all three.

- Available in January for a suggested retail price of $16.99

NEW! 5 Second Digital Forehead Thermometer with Case (03220) – Summer Infant™ has taken their best-selling Forehead Thermometer Strips digital! Simply place the ergonomically designed thermometer on the child’s forehead for a quick 5 second digital reading on the light up LCD screen. Simple to use, quick, non-invasive, and works right from birth. Protective case included.

- Available in January for a suggested retail price of $9.99
